WARDEN BUNGARD PLACED ON TRIAL FOR FURNISHING LIQUOR.

First Case From Jail Investigation Was Taken Up at Uniontown Today.

PEN PRISONERS GIVE EVIDENCE

They Say Bungard Went Down in Cellar and Drank Beer With Those Who Had "Chipped In" to Buy It—Matthew Hughes Sentenced.

UNIONTOWN, March 15.—With the opening of court this morning the cases against former Warden John Bungard of the county jail for furnishing liquor to prisoners and on Sunday were taken up. District Attorney D. W. Henderson prosecuted while the defense was in the hands of Attorneys McKean and Dumbauld. Commonwealth witnesses were the only ones examined at the first session, and they swore to practically the same stories that developed during the recent investigation. Among these were Neil Perkins, colored, and John Stanley, of Yauger Hollow fame, both doing time in the Western penitentiary. They have been here on two other occasions since the jail matter started, and are always recognized when they come into court.

Stanley testified that on the last day he and Adams were in the jail they had been drinking in the "Bull Pen" and that Bungard had shared the liquor. He also said that when they were escorted to the station to leave for the penitentiary they had stopped at a bar room where they received a half pint of whiskey part of which they took with them when they went to Pittsburg. The defense contended that this testimony was improper since they were then in the hands of men appointed by the pen officials, and that while Bungard and John Hebb did belong to the jail force they were not acting in that capacity with sentenced prisoners in custody. This was overruled by Judge Van Swearingen. Neil Perkins was as jovial and beaming as ever. He said he had received booze from the warden and told of seeing evidences of whiskey among the inmates.

Charles Illinois, colored, was a trusty while in jail last spring, and said that the cupboard in the hallway had been cleaned out by himself and other trusties. He said they found several bottles that he thought had contained whiskey. He said that trusties Johnson and Ed. Gartland had offered Bungard a drink from a bottle and that Bungard had accepted it.

At noon adjournment the Commonwealth witnesses had not all been heard and the taking of their testimony was continued in the afternoon. There are nine counts against Bungard, and the other defendants in the case will likely be called to trial immediately following this case. The spectators are not unusually numerous, but there will be a large attendance when William Cunningham is brought to trial, whenever that may be. He has not been apprehended, and a rumor recently floated puts him in Cuba, where he is supposed to have fled.

Several small suits were entered this morning. L. D. Sisler filed papers in his claim against the High House Coal Company to recover $440.20 on a promissory note. The Jeannette Glass Company claims $698.73 is due from the Fayette Bottling Works on a book account. The Pennsylvania Glass Sand Company wants $156.59 from the Keystone Bottling Manufacturing Company on a book acount.

Matthew Hughes, a young negro, was sentenced to Huntingdon by Judge Umbel this morning following conviction for assault and battery preferred against him by Edward Stevens of Connellsville. Stevens seems to have been after Maggie Williams whom he accused of stealing 50 cents from him. She was walking on the Yough bridge with Georgiana Bogus, of Fairchance.

She resented his accusations and seems to have soaked her follower with a brick, too. Hughes came to her rescue and the alleged assault on Stevens then occurred.

A special street car took the Greensburg basketball team to Uniontown Saturday night, where they spent an enjoyable evening defeating the team that would have finished last but for the intercession of Alliance. There was a great crowd of rooters along the car returning them to their homes late, after the game. It was the closing game of the season at Uniontown.

BLOODHOUNDS ON TRAIL; GO TO GORDON'S HOME

Searching for Smokehouse Thieves They Bring Party to Home of Star Jail Witnesses.

UNIONTOWN, March 15.—William Gordon, father of the Gordon girls, who figured prominently in the jail scandal, is again before the limelight and just because five imported bloodhounds, used to pursue the thieves who robbed the smokehouse on the Hazen place, near Hopwood, took up a trail which led to the Gordon home.

The men following the dogs rapped at the door but no one would answer. They believed Gordon was at home and went back to Uniontown to secure Constables Morris and Sisler, and a search warrant.

The party left about noon and feared that Gordon might take leg bail, as he did on one former occasion when officers went to see him.

About $100 worth of pork was stolen from the Hasen smokehouse and the dogs were brought from Fairmont to track down the thieves.

WEST PENN OFFICIALS QUIET ON FREIGHT BILL

Will First Let Legislature Act on Compulsory Law—Most Lines Will Oppose It.

Officials of the West Penn were interviewed this morning in regard to the bill which is pending in the State Legislature compelling trolley companies to haul freight but none of them would express any decided interest in the matter. They were inclined to wait until the solons at Harrisburg complete their deliberations and take final action on the bill.

At the last session of the Legislature a bill was passed permitting the trolley lines to handle freight but few of them took advantage of this opportunity. Now, as a "sop" to the grangers, who have received but little consideration from the hands of the city Legislators, the compulsory freight carrying bill is said to be slated for passage.

Trolley interests, it is said, are not any too friendly towards the proposed bill owing to the added expense which will result. The tendency has been on freight-carrying electric lines to turn the business over to the old line express companies, furnishing only the cars and crews.

CANNON RE-ELECTED; OLD RULES IN FORCE.

Insurgents Were Not Strong Enough to Break Down Regular Republicans, But Vote Is Close in Both Instances—Cooper of Wisconsin Gets Scattering Support.

United Press Telegram.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 15.—Congress convened in extraordinary session here at noon today, Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois was re-elected Speaker and the old rules remain in force. Speaker Cannon had 16 votes to the good while the vote on the adoption of the rules stood 194 to 188. This vote was taken on motion of Congressman Dalzell that the old rules be adopted.

There were few absentees and only 12 insurgents voted against Cannon. The vote for Speaker was as follows: Cannon, 204; Clark of Missouri, 166; Cooper of Wisconsin, 3; Norris of Nebraska, 2. Each of Wisconsin, 1, and ex-Congressman Hepburn of Iowa, 1.

The insurgents, and the way they voted, follow: Hinshaw of Nebraska for Norris; Hubbard of Iowa, for Cooper; Cary of Wisconsin for Cooper; Cooper of Wisconsin for Norris; Poindexter of Washington for Cooper; Davis of Minnesota for Cooper; Kopp of Wisconsin for Esch; Lenroot of Wisconsin for Cooper; Lindbergh of Minnesota for Hepburn; Morse of Wisconsin for Cooper; Murdock of Kansas for Cooper; Nelson of Wisconsin for Cooper.

The absentees were Clark of Florida, Russell of Texas, Legare of South Carolina, and Sheppard of Texas, all Democrats.

In addition to these neither Minority Leader Clark, Speaker Cannon nor Congressman Esch voted.

After the Speaker had been elected, Congressman Dalzell of Pennsylvania, brought up the question of the rules and moved that those of the last session be adopted. After a fiery debate the vote was taken, 194 voting for the old rules and 168 against them.

IS DECAPITATED BY TROLLEY CAR.

James Beatty Met Death on Rails Near Dunbar Late Saturday Night.

WAS ROBBERY AND ASSAULT?

Belief is Held in Some Quarters That Victim Was Attacked By Thugs. Was 35 Years Old and Single—Lived Near Leisenring.

With his head almost severed from his body, and his face crushed almost beyond recognition, James Beatty was picked up by the street car men on northbound car at the Greenhouse, near Dunbar, at 10:15 Saturday night. He had been sleeping on the track at a point where the track curves, and the headlight did not shine on the spot till the car was within 15 feet of the unfortunate man. Motorman Oscar Mann stopped his car, but too late, and the victim was placed aboard the car and brought to J. E. Sims' undertaking establishment and prepared for burial.

Beatty was about 35 years of age and single. He is survived by his widowed mother, Mrs. Susan Beatty, of near Leisenring. His father was the late Andrew Beatty. The following brothers survive: Robert, Adelaide; Andrew, of Mt. Pleasant, and a twin brother employed in the Klondike coke field. Many people came to see the remains after they had been prepared for burial.

Funeral services from the chapel at 3 o'clock, Monday, conducted by Rev. J. L. Proutit.

There was a rumor current for a while that Beatty had been robbed and placed on the track, having been rendered insensible by his assailants.

RUBBER HOSE CAUSE OF SMALL FIRE TODAY

It Blew off a Stove at R. N. Hodgson's Home But Damage Was Slight.

A rubber hose played its usual part in the record of fires this morning when it blew off a stove in R. N. Hodgson's kitchen and started a blaze. The department responded to a call from Box 124 but occupants of the house had extinguished the fire before any damage was done.

Mrs. Hodgson was in the kitchen at the time, and her presence likely saved the property from serious loss. She was not injured by the small explosion that occurred when the gas from the tube ignited.

Groundhog Days Over.

The fear and trembling with which people had awaited a turn in the groundhog's style of weather distribution has abated with the close of his reign which wound up in the same manner in which it had been carried out.

The temperature Sunday morning was 43 while the weather generally was all that could be wished. Even the light snowfall was in harmony with the rest of the conditions. This morning the temperature had dropped down to 35, but it caused no alarm as the little animal had rung off.

GRIM REAPER IS ACTIVE OF LATE.

Garners Sad Harvest of Old Residents in and About Mt. Pleasant.

ONE WAS 93 YEARS OF AGE

Another a Year Younger Also Called. Henry W. Stoner Was Probably One of Oldest Bank Presidents in Western Pennsylvania.

MT. PLEASANT, March 15.—Within the last few hours several of this community's oldest and best known residents have passed to the great beyond, while the Grim Reaper has not spared his visits to others in the earlier walks of life.

With the death of Henry Bowman the community lost one of its Civil War veterans who had survived a half century after the great struggle. He was 93 years of age. He died at the home of his son, Henry Bowman, Jr., Friday, the infirmities of age laying him low. Deceased is survived by three sons, George of Connellsville, and Homer and Henry of Mt. Pleasant, and one daughter, Mrs. Samuel Wakefield of Mt. Pleasant.

The funeral was held Saturday at 10 o'clock at the Baptist Church with interment at Mt. Pleasant.

Henry W. Stoner, aged 92 years, died in Mt. Pleasant at the home of his son, George W. Stoner on Eagle street Saturday after an unusually long and useful career in agricultural and financial circles. He was from East Huntingdon township, where he had spent many years as a farmer, and came to Mt. Pleasant in 1900, where at his advanced age he soon was elected president of the First National Bank for five years. He retired from this position in 1906, at the age of nearly 90 years, being probably the oldest active bank official in this section.

He is survived by the following named children: Mrs. H. R. Freed, Mt. Pleasant; George W. Stoner, cashier First National Bank, Mt. Pleasant; Harry H. Stoner, Alverton; Mrs. Charles T. Fox, Findlay, O., and Blair W. Stoner of Williamsburg.

Next in point of age is Lafayette Brothers, who died Friday morning at his country home at Brush Run at the age of 83 years. His death was brought about by a slight stroke of paralysis. He was very well known here having been formerly a resident. Funeral services were conducted at the Dunkard Church this morning and interment made in the private burial plot of the Brothers family in which they have been burying for several generations.

Mrs. Rebecca Brallier died at the Memorial hospital at 11 o'clock Saturday morning where she had been taking treatment for stomach troubles. She was 74 years of age and the widow of the late J. J. Brallier who for many years prior to his death had conducted a store in Mt. Pleasant. Among the survivors are Mrs. Henry Cunningham and Mrs. Hamilton Tarr, both of Mt. Pleasant, and by Jones Brallier of Uniontown, children. Funeral Monday at 11 o'clock at the Diamond street home, conducted by her pastor, E. R. Deitrick, of the First Reformed Church.

INTRUDER DRIVEN AWAY BY SCREAMS.

MAY HAVE GUESSED WRONG

Man Said Something About Looking For Another Family—Same Family Visited By Negro Robbers About Two Years Ago.

SCOTTDALE, March 15.—Chestnut street, near Pittsburg street, was a scene of excitement about 10 o'clock on Saturday night, when a man tried to break his way forcibly into the house of W. H. Strickler, Mrs. Strickler and her daughter, Miss Cora, being the only ones at home at the time. Their screams brought help from near by and the intruder left, the back porch of the Strickler house, which stands next to that occupied by S. A. Lowe and walked between Lowe's house and Dr. N. L. K. Kline's house, the next one beyond, out onto Chestnut street and then turned up Brooks street, the Kline house being on the corner of Brook and Chestnut. He escaped.

Mrs. Strickler and her daughter saw the man plainly through the glass of the door and when he saw they were looking at him he threw his weight against the door and tried to get in. Their screams drove him away. Something that he said about looking for another family that lives on the same street and the fact that it was so early in the evening caused them to think the fellow simply had the wrong bearings. A couple of years ago the Strickler family were waloned one night by negro burglars in their house and these, when discovered, fired through the door, a bullet just grazing Mr. Strickler's body. The police made a search for the intruder Saturday night, but failed to find him. He was described as a young man of about 25, with a derby hat, a bow tie and dark clothing.

BROWN SAND WAS NOT WANTED ON PENNSY TRAIN

Brakeman Decided White Would Be Best So Brown Got Pinched. Jokes Insisted on Paying.

Brown Sand is the cognomen under which a representative of the black dust region at Orient, presented himself to the borough officers, after trying to do the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for a ride. He was welcome to his trip, it seems, until he pulled into the station about 4:30 Saturday afternoon, where Special Officer Detemple took charge of him. The brakeman had discovered that the brown sand would tend to make a bad pall, white sand being the proper stuff for the wheels, and the arrest followed. Brown Sand was in evidence at the hearings Sunday morning, where he was discharged by Burgess Evans, with an admonition to pay his fares, and secure a safe seat aboard, or else wait until the anti-pass law is repealed.

John Smith, not the founder of Jamestown, but from Trotter, was saying things and chasing flies on Pittsburg street Saturday night when he ran amuck of Officer Bowman. Instead of apologizing Smith is said to have become uncomplimentary in his remarks to the blue coat. The borough realized $5 at the hearing.

M. C. Orndorff, also was disorderly and celebrating generally when Rotler and Decker saw him on Main street. Five dollars more.

G. B. Baker of Pennsville came to town Saturday night, and was persuaded to remain as the guest of the borough for 48 more hours.

Sam Jokes was in earnest when he pleaded guilty to being tight Sunday. Sam is from Gates. He wanted to sleep in the hastile and was accommodated. The Burgess expected to release him in the absence of any charge, but Sam stepped up, volunteered the information that he had been drunk, and drew 48 hours.

In all there were 11 sleepers and the filed out in solemn array, first securing their effects from the desk. At Monday's hearing William Vance was the only one remanded for future reference. He had come to town Sunday evidently expecting trouble. He was armed with a bottle of arnica, but his eyes were not blacked when he stepped up to the desk for his dose, and instead of his arnica received 48 hours to recover from a delusion.

WANTS PEACE BUT IS READY TO FIGHT HARD.

President Lewis Says Miners Have Big Fund to Save Their Organization.

United Press Telegram.

BRIDGEPORT, O., March 15.—With words of peace in his mouth, Thomas Lewis, the miners' chieftan, is girding himself for battle.

"I have not wanted a strike," said Lewis, "I do not believe the 168,000 miners in the Pennsylvania anthracite fields want a strike. But we want recognition. There must be recognition.

"No man can say what will be the action of the anthracite convention on March 23, called to receive our report. Speaking as an individual, I want no agreement if we cannot have our embodying organization recognition."

Lewis said the mine workers have $5,000,000 in treasuries of the national, state and district organizations.

"And every cent of this will be available if we feel the life of the organization is in danger," he added.

Inmates Fight.

BELLEFONTAINE, O., March 15.—Jerry Lynch, a cripple in the Champion County Infirmary, was nearly mobbed by other inmates, because, it is alleged, he choked a feeble-minded youth at the institution. Constable David Brown saved Lynch, who was arrested.

PLANS HAVE BEEN WORKED OUT

There Will Be a Sub-Station Where Stamps Can Be Bought, Leters Registered and Money Orders Secured. Two Carriers to Go Into Service.

The matter of establishing free delivery in that portion of the West Side which is to receive such benefit is now up to Town Council and Postmaster Clark Collins of the Connellsville office. When the streets and houses are numbered, in accordance with the requirements of the Postoffice Department, Mr. Collins will put two carriers at work and free delivery will become a fact.

Following many long conferences, covering a period of three days, Postoffice Inspector H. H. Williams of Greensburg finally came to a decision as to the recommendations he will make to the Department at Washington. These will be approved. The matter is to be left in the hands of Postmaster Collins, who will decide when all the requirements have been complied with by the West Side and order the service to be inaugurated.

Postmaster Collins and Assistant Postmaster A. E. Kurtz spent the better portion of those three days presenting arguments why a regular station should be established on the West Side, but Inspector Williams could not see it that way. He could not be convinced of the necessity of a postal station being located such a short distance from the main office. As a consequence the residents of the Hill district must come all the way to the Masonic Temple for their mail.

Inspector Williams will recommend to the Department the appointment of two carriers and an extra clerk for the local office. Postmaster Collins argued that two clerks would be needed, but Mr. Williams thought otherwise. Williams will also recommend that a substation be located on the West Side, probably in W. S. Yard's store, where stamps, stamped paper and money orders will be sold. Letters will also be registered there.

There will be three deliveries a day in the business section of the West Side along the entire length of Main street. The other portion of the town, including Greenwood, will have two deliveries. There will be a number of letter boxes placed at convenient points.

The boundaries of the district to enjoy the benefits of free delivery are as follows:

Beginning at the corner of First and Main streets, south on First to the borough line; west along the borough line to Eighth street; south on Eighth to Morrell avenue, in the Greenwod addition; southwesterly on Morrell avenue to Ninth street; north on Ninth street to Main street; east on Main to Seventh street; north on Seventh to Torrence avenue, east along Torrence to First street and thence to point of beginning.

It is seen by this that the residents of North Eighth street will not enjoy free delivery but if that street is given pavements which come up to requirements between now and the time service begins, Postmaster Collins has authority to extend the lines to include that thoroughfare.

Carrier No. 8 will report for a morning collection on the West Side at 6 o'clock. He will report to make up his first delivery at 7:15, his second at 1:15 in the afternoon and his third at 4 o'clock. His territory will be all of Main street and Eighth and Ninth streets in the Greenwood addition.

Carrier No. 9 will report for his first delivery at 7:15 and his second at 1:15. He will also do an hour's work at the window in the local office each evening between 7 and 8. This carrier will make deliveries on all the streets not covered by Carrier No. 8. Substitute Carriers A. L. Seaman and Samuel R. Cox will be advanced to regular positions. Mr. Seaman lives in Greenwood.

The letter boxes will be located at the following points: Main and First; Pennsylvania railroad and Main; Sub Station; Sixth, opposite T. H. Hagen's residence; Main and Seventh; Main and Eighth and Leisenring avenue.

It is expected that Postmaster Collins will consult with Town Council in order that rapid time can be made on numbering the streets and houses in the proper manner. The deliveries should be instituted within a few weeks, at most.

Although numerous requests have already been made to have the benefits of the free delivery section extended it is stated that absolutely no extension will be made until there are continuous sidewalks which come up to the necessary requirements.

Elaborate Birthday Party.

Elaborate appointments suggestive of St. Patrick's Day marked a charming children's party given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. T. B. Donnelly at her home on East Main street in honor of the twelfth birthday anniversary of her little daughter Anna. The hours were from 2:30 until 5 o'clock. The hostess was assisted in looking after the entertainment of the guests by Mrs. Jennie Wythe, Mrs. J. L. Fritsch, and Mrs. Edward Marietta. Twenty-three little friends of the little hostess wearing the daintiest of lace trimmed frocks were present and spent a most delightful afternoon in fancy dancing and various games. The parlor presented a very pretty and attractive scene as the little dancers tripped the light fantastic to sweet strains of music rendered by Mrs. Gillette.

The feature games were the Doll Game, Foxy Grandpa, the Chair Game and a Word Contest. Dainty prizes were awarded to the winners in each game. Irene Scisson won the prize for guessing the correct name of the doll, Anenia Scisson won the Chair Game prize, Mabelle Sherrick the Foxy Grandpa prize and Fannie Cummings the Word Contest prize. Several vocal solos were also rendered. Shortly after 4 o'clock the little guests assembled in the dining room where an elegant luncheon was served. Covers were laid for 14 at one long table in the center of the room while covers for eight were laid at two smaller tables. All the appointments were cleverly carried out in a color scheme of pink and green. In the center of the table was the conventional birthday cake bearing 12 lighted candles inserted in pink rose buds. At either end of the table were low mounds of sweet peas interspersed with southern asparagus. The place cards were dainty little figures significant of St. Patrick's Day, while inserted in the ice cream which was served in little green baskets were small green flags. Huge bouquets of carnations were also profusely used in the apartments on the first floor.

Little Miss Roberta Felty was the lucky finder of the very pretty gold ring which was secreted in the birthday cake while the thimble fell to Gladys Humbert. At the conclusion of the luncheon a large Jack Horner pie was placed on the table and by pulling a pink satin ribbon each little guest secured a very dainty favor. The affair was one of the prettiest children's parties given here for some time nothing being left undone for the comfort and entertainment of the little guests. Many very pretty and useful presents were received by the little hostess in honor of the happy occasion.

Well attended was the second annual group meeting of the Connellsville Sub-District of the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal Church held Saturday in the local church. FARMERS TO MEET.

Is More Fraud Practised on Them Than on Others?

The regular meeting of the Union Farmers' Club of Fayette County will be held Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Arnold near Vanderbilt. The subject for discussion is "Swindling." The following is the program: "Is there more fraud practised upon farmers than other classes of people?" D. D. Bryson; "How can this evil be evaded?" C. S. Freed; "Are there as many swindlers among farmers as among other people?" A. C. Oglevee. The morning session will convene at 11 o'clock.

And Outcome of Stauffer Election Came As a Surprise.

STAUFFER, March 15.—The largest vote ever known in this district was polled at Saturday's special election for two School Directors which resulted in the victory of C. S. Hebenthall and W. S. Ramsay. The total number of votes cast was 182.

I. J. McClay was elected over George Gray, the vote being 70 to 43. The outcome of the election was something of a surprise.

BIG ATTRACTION COMES TO SOISSON TOMORROW

"The Time, the Place and the Girl" Expected to Draw a Record House.

With Arthur Dunn as "Happy Hicks," and a company of equally strong players, "The Time, the Place and the Girl" will appear at the Scisson theatre tomorrow afternoon and evening. This is the show which made the one big hit of last season and its return this year will likely be greeted by a record house.

The company this year is exceptionally good and the play itself is one which improves with age, although it is not moss grown. As a first class musical comedy "The Time, the Place and the Girl" has just a little bit on any show that has played here.

FREE POSTAL DELIVERY FOR NEW HAVEN CITIZENS

By consolidation with Connellsville, New Haven not only gets free postal delivery but also retains her post office. The citizens of the West Side are about to realize one of the promises made to them in connection with their becoming a part of the larger community. The realization is prompt and will be delayed no longer than is necessary to meet the requirements of the Postoffice Department with reference to passable sidewalks and numbered houses. With few exceptions these conditions are already met. Such improvements of this character as need yet to be made are unimportant in extent, and it should be the first care of the Town Council to enforce upon delinquent citizens the duty of promptly and thoroughly remedying these deficiencies.

To provide suitable sidewalks is at all times the duty of the owners of abutting property, and if after due notice they neglect to do so it is the right and the duty of the Town Council to cause such sidewalks to be laid and to collect the cost thereof from the delinquent citizen, and we believe the borough can collect the amount with interest and costs and a penalty of 20 percentum. It will, therefore, be seen that it is cheaper for the citizen to heed the notice than it is to neglect it.

THE PUBLIC-SPIRITED AND POORLY-PAID EDITOR.

The proposition to publish certain laws in the newspapers will be referred to by unthinking persons as "pap for the printers." Yet the departments whose laws are sought to be made public have been trying for some years past to convince the newspapers that they ought to print this matter for nothing because it is for public information

There is a persistent determination in certain quarters to assume that the publisher, and especially the country publisher, is a public servant whose duty it is to serve the public without much other compensation than the reward of an approving conscience, but unfortunately for the publisher, the approving conscience won't pay the payroll Saturday afternoon, nor will it satisfy the claims of the paper and ink dealers every month, nor will it purchase type and machinery.

The publisher and his family can't live on ink or clothe themselves in public spirit. The one does not satisfy hunger nor does the other cover nakedness.

Publishers would like to be philanthropists and most of them are to the full limit of their ability No class of citizens exhibit more public spirit and receive less remuneration for their work.

The agitation of the proposition to publish the laws is not one of private gain, much less newspaper graft. The prices set for the work in times past have been so low that the measures were opposed by a large proportion of the newspapers themselves on the ground that the rate was unprofitable

The publication of the laws is a duty which the Legislature owes to the people. Its cost will be trifling compared with the cost of many other less important propositions.

Judge Telford of Indiana county has laid down a little more judge-made license law than usual He requires the licensee to refuse to permit any treating. The treating habit is undoubtedly responsible for a great deal of intemperance, but intemperance is not confined to the use of intoxicants. It is possible for a judge to be intemperate in the use of his powers If there is any principle of law that is fully established it is that the Legislatures make the law and the Courts interpret and enforce it. A conscientious judge never adds to or takes away from the statute.

Corporations should be taxed just like individuals, and everybody should be equitably taxed

Dry counties and towns make dry revenues.

Instead of devoting all their energies to taxing everything in sight for the purpose of raising more revenue both Congress and the Legislature will do well to practise a little economy in expenditures and in so doing it is not necessary to direct it all against the poor printers

Peter Rutsek has been discovered everywhere but in Connellsville where he is most desired

The proposed Tariff changes are not so threatening as they look. The biggest threat to business lies in their uncertainty

It would not be surprising if there are millions of dollars of uncollected corporation taxes due the State The Treasury has until quite recently been bursting with money It will be recalled that the Capitol with the efficient aid of the lootets cost the State $13,000,000 and the Treasury didn't miss the money There is more incentive to collect the delinquent now that the State like most people is hard up It may be found, however, that many of the corporations which are delinquent are also defunct and should long ago have been marked off the books as out of business."

Maxim's noiseless gun is not encouraged by the conservators of the peace Too many murders are mysterious enough without adding to their opportunities in that direction.

Beaver Falls borough is divided into wards, yet the people there continue to elect Councilmen at large The borough laws are so numerous and conflicting that every community interprets them to suit its particular fancy The present Legislature proposes to appoint a commission to codify the health laws A similar commission should be appointed to codify the borough laws A uniform and comprehensive borough code is needed worse than anything in this particular line

Judge Hole of Columbiana county O., has decided that beyond the low-water mark in the Ohio river is "wet" territory The decision is literally correct whether lawfully or not.

This country began inaugurating its Presidents on April 30th It should have adhered to this custom, but it is not too late to return to it

Independent school districts seem to vote when the spirit moves them A Fayette county judge once said that School Boards had more power than the Court, but it is questionable whether independent school districts are independent of the Constitution, which provides a certain time for the election of city, town and township officers

Saint Patrick will be honored in Connellsville.

The Iron Duke of Congress is not a radical Revisionist of the Iron Tariff, and to this extent at least he is acceptable to the Connellsville coke region interests

Independent school districts, like little independent boroughs, are expensive.

The proposed new mining law promises to be a question of as much relative interest in the Legislature as the Tariff is in Congress

State roads are very convenient and in some degree profitable to the communities in which they are built but there are other matters which have greater claims upon the consideration of the State

When the industries of the country know where they "are at," they will adjust themselves to their new conditions, grease the wheels and get a gait on.

The business interests of the country as well as the labor interests prefer to see the Reed rules remain undisturbed at least until the Tariff bill is disposed of The Retort Courteous.

The Latrobe Bulletin instances the assessment of an Indiana county brewery this year at $5,000 as against $100,000 when it had license to sell its product generally.

The figures illustrate the value of a retail license as against no license whatever

—x—

The Johnstown Tribune suggests that President Taft might insert an entering wedge in the Solid South by proposing a substitute for the proposed change in the inaugural date by maintaining the present date and adjourning the celebration to the Sunny South

Unfortunately for the scheme the President is not a demagogue The inaugurations are held at the right place, but at the wrong time The merry month of May is the accepted time.

BISHOP BERRY IS TO LECTURE.

Will Speak in Methodist Church at Scottdale on March 22.

NATHANIEL FOSTER IS STRICKEN

SCOTTDALE, March 15.—Members of the Methodist Episcopal denomination in Scottdale, Connellsville, Mt. Pleasant, Dawson and other nearby towns are greatly interested in a visit that Bishop Joseph F. Berry of that church will make to this locality in a few days, when he lectures in the First Methodist Episcopal Church on Mulberry street, Scottdale, on Monday evening, March 22, at 8 o'clock. His subject will be "What a Tramp Saw in Ireland." Bishop Berry, as many can testify who have heard him speak at the meetings of conference, is eloquent, entertaining and instructive in the highest degree, and the lecture will be well worth hearing. He comes here under the auspices of the Bible class and the members of that large organization are selling the tickets for the lecture in good numbers. Inquiries from other places have come to various members. The last time a Bishop of the church was here was when Bishop Fowler, a few years ago, gave his famous lecture on "Abraham Lincoln," which was one of the greatest oratorical efforts ever heard here.

Had a Light Stroke.

Nathan Foster, known to nearly every man, woman and child in town, and a prominent gardener of near Wesley Chapel, was the victim of a light stroke of paralysis on Friday. He went out to the woods with Sherman Folmar, a young man who is working for him, to saw some wood, and while engaged in the work of sawing fell over. He was taken to his home and Dr. W. H. Fetter of town called. Mr. Foster had been in his usual health previously and the physician pronounced the seizure to have been a light stroke. Mr. Foster was sitting up in bed on Saturday with good prospects for recovery.

Was Given Ten Days.

Thomas Winebrenner was before Burgess R. F. Ellis on Sunday morning. Several complaints had reached the officers about conditions in the Winebrenner family, and Saturday night policemen were sent for an account of Thomas being on a rampage, which has been taking place intermittently for the past five weeks it is said. Mrs. Winebrenner came out for the police and was accompanied back by Officer Austin Hyde. She preceded him into the house and Winebrenner, not seeing the officer, grabbed his wife and began choking and beating her. It was testimed. When the officer charged Winebrenner to the lockup, Burgess Ellis imposed a sentence of ten days confinement on Winebrenner, but will give him a chance of working out the fine of $10.

In a news story of the meeting of the Westmoreland-Fayette County Photographers Association at Latrobe last week there was this said of a local artist. "In the exhibit of pictures which was made, by far the most interesting, was the photograph of William Jennings Bryan, taken a week ago, by H. J. Springer, the Scottdale photographer, and which Mr. Bryan declared was the best picture he had ever had taken. The picture attracted considerable attention."

Bible Study Begun.

The Union Bible Class has begun its two weeks' study in the Union Mission in the Richer & Craft building and will continue each afternoon of this week and next at 2.30 with a different method of study each day. Today's study was on the devotional method; Tuesday afternoon, Dispensational Method; Wednesday, Synthetic Method; Thursday, Doctrinal Method; Friday, Prophetical Method; Saturday, Topical Method; Monday, March 22, Chapter Method; Tuesday, March 23, Book Method; Wednesday, March 24, Analytical Method; Thursday, March 25, Typical Method; Friday, March 26, Historical Method, and Saturday, March 27, Chronological Method.

Methodists Winners.

A DANGEROUS COUGH

Wife of Newark, Ohio, Man Had Symptoms of Consumption—Was Badly Run Down and Reduced in Flesh.

RESTORED TO HEALTH BY VINOL

"About two years ago my wife was in very poor health. She had no appetite, was much reduced in flesh, and for three months had a very bad cough, with all the symptoms of consumption. Vinol was recommended and she began taking it; before the first bottle was used her appetite was better, and she was improving in health; by the time she had taken three bottles the cough was gone. She is still taking Vinol and cannot say too much in its praise." N. L. Stebleton, Newark, Ohio.

The reason that Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it is the only preparation that contains tonic iron together with all of the healing, body-building elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods livers, but no oil.

Without hesitation we proclaim our faith in Vinol for chronic coughs, colds or bronchitis and as a body builder and strength creator for old people.

Anyway, if you try it and it does no good we will refund your money on demand. Graham & Company, Druggists, Connellsville, Pa.

The Argument.

When it is known that its power to strengthen the system and build up the bod is why Father John's Medicine cures colds, it will be understood why it is so valuable as a tonic and for driving the impurities out of the system. It feeds the tissues and makes strength; prevents pneumonia and consumption—not a patent medicine; pure and wholesome—50 years in use.

Appeals From Viewers.

THE BARRIER

"It don't make any difference to you now I first saw her and how I began to forget that anything else in the world was worth having but her. I'd lived in the woods all my life, as I said, and knew more about birds and bugs and bees than I did about women. I hadn't been broke proper and didn't know how to act with them, but I laid out to get this girl, and I did fairly well. There's something wild in every woman that needs to be tamed, and it isn't like the wildness that runs in wood critters. You can win that over by gentleness, but you have to take it away from a woman. Every live thing that couldn't talk was my friend, but I made the mistake of courting my own kind the same way, not knowing that when two of any species mate the male must rule. I was too gentle. Even so, I reckon I'd have won out only for another man. Dan Bennett was his name—the kind that dumb animals hate, and—well, that takes his measure. His range adjoined mine, and, though I'd never seen him, I heard stories now and then—the sort of tales you can't tell to a good woman—so it worried me when I heard of his attentions to this girl. Still, I thought she'd surely find him out and recognize the kind of fellow he was; but, Lord, a woman can't tell a man from a dog, and there wasn't any one to warn her.

"This Bennett came from the town below, where he ran a saloon and a brace game or two; but, being as he rode into our camp and out again in the night and as I didn't drink nor listen to the music of the little rolling ball, why, we never met even after he began coming to Chandon. Understand, I wasn't too good for those amusements. I just didn't happen to hanker after them, for I was living with the image of the little schoolma'am in my mind, and that destroyed what bad habits I'd formed.

"It was along in the early spring that she began to see I had notions about her, but my d——d backwardness wouldn't let me speak, and, in addition, I was getting closer to ore every shot at the mine and was holding off until I could lay both myself and my gold mine at her feet and ask her to take the two at one set if one didn't pan out the other might. But it seemed like I'd never get into pay. The closer I got the harder I worked, and, of course, the less I saw of her, likewise the oftener Bennett came. I reckon no man ever worked like I did—two shifts a day, eighteen hours, with six to sleep. The skin came off of my hands, and I staggered when I came out into the daylight. At last I struck it, and still I waited a while longer till I could be sure. Then I went down to my little shack and put on my other clothes. I remember I'd gone so thin that they hung loose, and my palms were so raw I had hard work handling the buttons and got my shirt all bloody, for I'd been in the drift forty hours without sleep and breathing powder smoke till my knees buckled and wabbled under me. To this day the smell of stale powder smoke makes a woman of me, but that morning I sang, for I was going for my bride, and the world was brighter than it has ever been for eighteen years. The little schoolhouse was closed, at which I remembered that the term was over. I'd been living underground for weeks and lost track of the days, so that I had to count them up on my fingers. It took me a long time, for I was pretty tired in my head, but when I'd figured it out I went on to where she was boarding.

"The woman of the place came to the door, a Scotchwoman. She had a mole on her chin, I remember, a brownish black mole with three hairs in it. She wore an apron, too, that was kind of checkered, and three buttons were open at the neck of her dress. I recall a lot more of little things about her, though the rest of what happened is rather dreamy.

"I asked for Merridy, and she told me she'd gone away—gone with Bennett the night before, while I was coughing blood from the powder smoke; that they were married in the front room and that the bride looked beautiful. She had cried a bit on leaving Chandon and—and—that was about all. I counted the buttons on the Scotchwoman's waist eight or ten times, and by and by she asked if I was sick. But I wasn't. She was a kind hearted woman, and I'd been to her house a good deal, so she asked me to come in and rest. I wasn't tired, so I went away and climbed back up to the little shack and the mine that I hated now.

"I turned into a kind of hermit after that, and I wasn't good to associate with. Men got so they shunned me, and I knew they told strange stories, because I heard them whisper when I went to the stores for grub once a month.

RUSH BEGINS AT HARRISBURG.

Legislature Enters Today on the Last Month of Session.

HEARINGS ON SCHOOL CODE

Will Be Held This Week—Tomorrow Last Day For Introduction of Bills in the House—Bill to Make Trolleys Haul Freight.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 15.—The legislature enters today on the last month of the session of 1909 and all business is to be rushed, although there is little probability of much legislation beyond appropriation bills and those specially recommended by the governor or departments being passed. Efforts to have the session extended have proved futile and as an earnest of the intention to close up business on April 15 the time for presentation of bills will close tomorrow in the house.

This week the appropriations committee will begin their final inspections and the chairmen will confer with the state's financial officials regarding the framing of the general appropriation bill, which was presented in blank a fortnight ago.

This week also will see the final hearings on two of the so-called code bills, those to provide laws for the government of the school system of the state and for the soft coal mines. These hearings will begin tomorrow and continue possibly two days, after which the committees will act on them in executive session. Much opposition to both is expressed.

Considerable public utility legislation, as bills relative to corporations supplying public service are termed, will also be considered in committees this week. The bill to make carrying of freight by trolley companies compulsory will be amended so as not to apply to first and second class cities. A big fight is ahead on the bill to give the mayors of second-class cities more authority over street car service. This bill, backed by Mayor Magee of Pittsburg, is being vigorously opposed by trolley interests.

Much interest is also attached to the "one board" medical examination bill, which will be taken up in the house this week.

There are over 150 bills on the calendar in the house and probably one-third as many in the senate, and as the committees are expected to be very active the number will be increased by the end of the week. The house will hold two sessions tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday and probably meet on Friday.

Tomorrow the two houses will ballot separately for United States senator to fill the unexpired term of Philander C. Knox and the following day the election will be announced. As George T. Oliver of Pittsburg will receive practically all of the Republican votes he will be elected and no joint ballot will be necessary. He was the caucus nominee and received 200 votes. Senator Webster Grim is the Democratic nominee.

Rope Rider Killed.

Puffed Wheat (EXACT SIZE) Puffed Rice

The Latest Curiosity In Foods

The foods shot from guns—Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice—are the most unique foods in existence.

These giant grains—puffed to eight times natural size—retain their original shapes.

They are four times as porous as bread—so porous and crisp that they melt in the mouth.

Never was a cereal food half so enticing. Never was a starchy food made so digestible.

Professor Anderson, who invented these foods, has provided a new delight. Enjoy it, and let your children enjoy it. Surprise them to-morrow at breakfast or luncheon.

Foods Shot from Guns

Quaker Puffed Wheat 10c. Quaker Puffed Rice 13c.

They are made by this curious process: The whole wheat or rice kernels are put into bronze metal guns. The guns are sealed, then revolved for an hour in a heat of 550 degrees.

The heat turns the moisture in the grain to steam, and the pressure becomes terrific. Then the guns are fired. Instantly every starch granule is blasted into a myriad particles. The kernel of grain is expanded eight times. It becomes porous and crisp. Yet the coat is unbroken; each kernel is shaped as before.

GRIND OF CIVIL COURT UP IN SOMERSET COUNTY

It Lasted Two Weeks and All But One of the 15 Cases Were Disposed Of.

SOMERSET, Pa., March 13.—Today the special term of civil court, which has been in session here for a week, was concluded. There were 15 cases on the list and of this number all but one have been disposed of. The following is the regular routine court business since the last report. A verdict for the defendants was returned in the case of Augusta Manonico against A. and Joe Lucente. This was an action in ejectment to determine the title to a tract of land located in Paint township near Winber.

A voluntary non-suit was allowed in action of replevin brought by the Williamsport Gas Engine Company to recover an engine sold to U. M. Weimer of Meyersdale.

A non-suit was allowed in the action of trespass brought by Calvin Hay of Brothersvalley township against the Supervisors of that township. Hay owns a farm and alleged that the Supervisors diverted two streams from their natural channels and caused them to flow over his property.

A verdict has not been returned in the action of trespass brought by Calvin S. Coughenour of Confluence to recover damages for violation of a timber contract made by him with Charles E. Stewart. The cutting of certain timber not provided for in the contract is alleged.

A continuance was awarded in an action of assumpsit by Mulvehill Brothers, wholesale liquor dealers of Johnstown, against John I. Bench et al.

The court directed the jury to return a verdict in favor of the defendant in an action on a mechanics' lien brought by W. R. Suttil of Somerset against Charles Keller et al to recover $200. A similar action in which William Bowman is defendant will stand until this case is finally disposed of.

The jury has not returned a verdict in an action of assumpsit to recover $600 brought by the executor of Elporn Banning, late of Connellsville, against P. J. McGrath et al, now proprietor of the National Hotel of Berlin. This debt was contracted while the defendant was proprietor of a hotel in Fayette county but since that time the plaintiff died and her estate was settled by her executor.

The one case remaining for trial is an action of assumpsit brought by Frank B. Fluck, a local civil engineer, to recover $250 from the Pickands-Magee Company of Toronto, Canada. The plaintiff alleges that this amount is due him for surveying a mine several years ago.

The Tests of Time and Experience Prove that money in the bank earning interest is the safest, as well as the most satisfactory investment, besides it is always available. Start a surplus fund now by opening an account with the Citizens National Bank. Four per cent interest paid on savings accounts. Citizens National Bank, Connellsville, Pa. Surplus and profits $70,000. Capital $100,000. Surplus and profits $90,000.00.

Officers Named.

Upon the petition of residents of Masontown, presented by Attorney C. A. Rhodes, Paul D. Howard was appointed auditor to fill the unexpired term of Fred R. Lardin who removed.

WRIGHT-METZLER CO.

Just as a Matter of News

It is definitely known that many of last year's "tailored suits" are being unloaded on the people of this vicinity this month. That is the principle reason why so many "rare values" are being offered right at the jump of the new season by many dealers. The Wright-Metzler Suit store has no last year's suits in stock. This statement ought to give assurance to those who don't watch fashions closely, but depend upon the advice of their dealer.

It's Worth While to Know Where to Go to Be Absolutely Sure of Your Style absolutely sure that the price to you will be the lowest known cost of that particular garment. There are no better values anywhere than are to be found in our garment stores. If there were better suits for the money WE WOULD HAVE THEM. If there was a lower price on any of these suits WE WOULD MAKE IT.

We've never been undersold by any one. We've never been (locally) approached in the matter of correct style presentation or in the scope of our stocks. As the fashions of the directoire period still govern the modeling of all women's garments it is not a difficult matter to convince one (not an acute follower of fashion) that a last season suit is new, and even a thirty dollar suit of this description ought to sell at $12.00 or $15.00 now, for there is a vast difference in the directoire styles of a season past and those of the present time, an "out of style" garment is not a bargain at any price.

We present exceptional values throughout our stocks of ready-for-service garments for women. Our regular prices representing value in excess of the "sale prices" of many stores. This fact is due to our superior buying and selling facilities. We want you to distinctly understand that you may bring this advertisement to our store and we'll prove every statement it contains. We're offering the best suit values in the history of our merchandising and that means the best values in this community regardless of advertised prices. In addition to our regular matchless values we are able to offer you

An Extraordinary Suit Value

FIFTY $25.00 SUITS AT $19.75

Not regular stock, of course, for no concern could think of cutting prices at the very beginning of the season—people would not believe that for "common sense" would tell any one that that sort of thing is never done. Makers of suits buy full bolts of cloth, they have to; there's always some left, after orders are filled. These "remaining yards" have been made up into suits, scarcely two alike in the entire lot, but, that's all the better, serges, prunellas and fancy worsteds lined throughout with satin or messaline silk. They're from the maker of our best suits and we know how carefully they are made. Just as carefully as if it were regular stock. The styles are modeled from his best and newest designs and every size here in one or another bran new fabric.

This is positively the best value we've ever offered in the month of March. We wish the lot contained a hundred, instead of fifty suits, for they're bound to create a furore. You'll make more money than we will for while we bought them low we've only added our regular percentage of profit, but you secure a decided saving and the suit you buy is spic, span new just from the factory of the best maker of $25.00 suits in this country.

SCHOOL CODE AMENDED

The Measure Undergoes Important Changes Today at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, March 15.—Important changes in the school code now before the legislature at Harrisburg were decided upon at a conference in the office of Senator Penrose. Those present were Supreme Court Justice Elkin, State Senators Durham and McNichol, Francis Shunk Brown and Senator Penrose.

A new bill was drawn up today at a conference between J. S. Rilling of Erie, counsel for the educational code commission, and Francis Shunk Brown in the latter's office.

Among the important changes was the placing of the appointment of the members of the central board from Philadelphia and Pittsburg in the hands of the governor. Schools are entirely separated from the control of councils and the occupation tax which has caused so much comment has been omitted from the new bill.

Transport Logan Hard Aground.

Honolulu, March 15.—Three tugs joined in a vain attempt to refloat the United States army transport Logan, which went ashore in this harbor, while maneuvering to back into her slip. With about twenty-five feet of her bow resting on a reef she is listed to starboard but is not leaking and is in no danger.
